

JUDGE JAMES W. WATTS, DEAN OF BAR, IS CALLED

Death Comes to Beloved Veteran Attorney at His Home in Dixon

James W. Watts, dean of the Lee county bar and for years a distinguished member of the legal profession, passed away at his home, 605 North Ottawa avenue, at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, after a long illness. Funeral services will be held at the First Methodist church at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, following a short prayer at the home at 1:00 P. M. Dr. Floyd L. Blewfield, the pastor, will officiate and burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. Watts, beloved instructor of hundreds of successful attorneys and cherished associate of all lawyers with whom he came in contact, was born near Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 18, 1849, the son of Thomas and Ann E. (Watson) Watts. His parents came to Illinois in 1853 and settled on a farm in Lafayette township, Ogle county, where the boy remained until he reached early manhood, his education being acquired in the public schools.

He was reared to farm life and early became familiar with the duties and labors that fall to the life of the agriculturist. In 1869 he began teaching, following this occupation for three years in the country schools of Lee county, and in 1872 he went to Ashton, where he remained as a student until the fall of 1874, at which time he entered the law department of the University of Michigan, from which he was graduated March 30, 1876.

Began Practice in 1876
He was admitted to the Michigan bar that year and returned to Ashton where he took up the practice of his profession, being admitted to the Illinois bar in 1878. While in Ashton he was elected a member of the board of education of the Ashton district and assessor of Ashton township, serving in each capacity for six year terms. Seeking a broader field of labor Mr. Watts came to Dixon in the fall of 1886, where for many years his pronounced ability gave him rank with the foremost members of the Illinois bar.

Possessing a rare combination of talent—learning, tact, patience, industry, coupled with an analytical mind—"Judge" Watts was long accounted one of the state's most thorough lawyers, and his ability as an educator in the field of his profession was widely acknowledged.

Dean of Law School
On June 10, 1889 he became dean of the law department of Dixon College and in May, 1913 he became head of the James W. Watts College of Law, which was organized by students of the law department of the Northern Illinois College of Law. Mr. Watts was likewise interested in general education and served as president of the board of education of the North Dixon district for fifteen years. He was City Attorney of Dixon for two years; served as a justice of the peace for nine years; and was Master-in-Chancery of

First Information on Registration Received

County Clerk Sterling Schrock shortly before noon today received the first consignment of supplies for next Wednesday's registration. No plans for the draft registration or announcement of personnel of registration boards has been received.

Many schools throughout the county, according to reports today, do not plan to close Wednesday, as County Clerk Schrock has received inquiries asking that schools be permitted to continue while the registration be carried on in gymnasiums or other departments of the school buildings.

A member of the board of education of the Dixon school system stated today that the schools of the city would not be closed for the registration, adding that rooms would be made available, if required, for this purpose which would not disrupt the study periods.

Bicycle Grows from Youngster's Plaything Into Important Traffic Problem

Chicago, Oct. 11—(AP)—The bicycle, safety workers were told today, has grown from a youngster's plaything into an important problem of modern traffic.

Blaming 700 deaths upon bicycle-automobile collisions in 1939, Richard O. Bennett, Lansing, Mich., informed the National Safety Congress that traffic officials must handle the bicycle as a major problem and stop treating it as a somewhat annoying little brother.

Bennett, director of the Lansing Safety Council, presented the annual report of the National

Gov. Stelle Plans Investigation of Highway Contracts

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11—(AP)—Gov. John Stelle said today he was investigating to determine if state highway construction costs were being boosted by collusive bidding among contractors.

Director Charles P. Casey of the public works and buildings department, which includes the highway division, went to Stelle's office for a conference shortly after the governor announced he was making the inquiry.

"You can rest assured," Stelle told a press conference "that any conspirators on state aid contracts will be vigorously prosecuted, whether they are state, city or county officials. Let the chips fall where they may."

In reply to questions whether he would permit state employees to continue to make two per cent salary contributions for Democratic campaign expense, Stelle replied: "Any contributions given under me will be voluntary and not forced." Then he added:

Expects Loyalty
"At the same time I expect every man to be loyal to this administration."

"When a reporter asked if he thought the two statements were contradictory, Stelle replied 'no'. 'I think a man should be loyal to the people he's under,' he said. 'If he goes a different way, he's not loyal. Each individual can gauge his own loyalty.'"

Stelle said he had not received a request from the Peoria Chamber of Commerce to investigate state allocation of gasoline tax refunds to counties and cities but said he "would check with the finance department on it."

The Chamber of Commerce charged that allocation of gas tax funds were based on automobile registrations in 1933, instead of from the latest available figures, and that Cook county was receiving a disproportionate share of the funds.

PREGNANCY RETARDS POLIO

Indianapolis, Oct. 11—(AP)—A Hoosier obstetrician reports evidence that "some immunity to infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis) is given by pregnancy."

Dr. Carl P. Huber of Indiana University medical school told the Central Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists yesterday a study of 537 recent cases of the disease in Indiana revealed only two combining acute poliomyelitis with advanced pregnancy.

Air-Raid Shelter

Lincoln, Mass., Oct. 11—(AP)—The first air-raid shelter in New England, and possibly the first in the United States, is under construction on the fashionable estate of Mrs. James J. Storrow.

For several weeks workmen enjoined to secrecy have been at work on the sturdy concrete tunnel, 16 miles from the heart of Boston. The shelter, 100 feet from a public road, appears to be about 16 or 18 feet high, about 20 feet wide, and has an entrance just wide enough to admit one person.

Safety Council's Special Committee on Bicycle Problems

The report stated that since 1932, the number of bicycle deaths have doubled while total motor vehicle deaths have risen but 11 per cent.

This rise was blamed on the tripling of the number of bicycles in use and a 48 per cent increase in motor vehicle mileage.

The committee recommended city registration and licensing of bicycles, adoption of standard regulations enforceable by impounding bikes, revoking license plates and by sponsoring special courts and instruction classes.

HOLIDAY SEASON DECORATIONS TO BE EXCEPTIONAL

Dixon Merchants Plan Elaborate Dress-Up for This Winter

Extensive plans have been formulated for the holiday season program in Dixon, following two meetings by the retail trades division of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce. A breakfast was held at the Hotel Nachusa Thursday morning at which time plans were discussed and a finance committee appointed.

Members of this committee began their work immediately following the meeting and reported at a meeting held today at the Chamber of Commerce offices. The personnel of the finance committee is: Walter C. Knack, Ralph W. Bogue, Homer J. Erzinger, A. E. Marth, Harry Beard, James Burke, Harry Weinman, G. C. Barrowman, James G. Clemon, C. A. Mellott, Eldon Myers and Arnold V. Lund.

The annual holiday program which is to be far more extensive this year than in previous seasons, will begin Nov. 29th and continue until after New Year's Day. The merchants' committee voted to decorate both sides of the Galena avenue memorial arch with neon lighting, which is to feature the decorations in the business district. It has also been decided to erect a handsome neon sign at the junction of federal route 52 and 30 north of Amboy which will direct tourists to Dixon, John Kramer of this city submitted the plans for the highway sign and the additional illumination of the Galena avenue arch.

Encouraging Reports
Reports submitted by the committee members today of subscriptions from Dixon merchants were most encouraging. While a large number had made their contributions, several others indicated their approval of the program and indicated their cooperation within a

Prevailing Wage Rate Law Voided

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11—(AP)—The Illinois prevailing wage rate law, requiring contractors to pay prevailing wage scales to employees on all public works projects, was held unconstitutional by the state Supreme Court today.

The statute, enacted by the legislature in 1939 and described by union leaders as one of the most important pieces of labor legislation in recent years, was thrown out on the ground it deprived contractors and employees of the right to freely contract on wages and hours.

The court held also it gave officials sponsoring public works projects an "arbitrary" right to fix wage standards in various localities without adequate statutory restraint.

The law provides that public officials should determine the prevailing wage rate before asking for bids and compel all bidders to estimate labor costs from the same scale.

In other rulings today the supreme court reversed the appellate court's holding that a guest passenger injured in an automobile is not entitled to receive damages from the driver for injuries received in an accident. The case was that of James Connatt against Winfield S. Winget in which the Peoria county circuit court had originally awarded damages to Connatt.

Dixon Man Gets Gov. Stelle's First Official Paper

Michael Kinney, center above, Dixon young man who is now chief clerk in the executive department of the office of Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes in Springfield, had the honor last Sunday of receiving the first official paper signed by Gov. John Stelle, right, immediately after the latter had taken the oath of office from Circuit Judge W. J. Hill, left. The proclamation, which Kinney is shown holding, established a period of mourning for the late Henry Horner, to expire Oct. 15.

STELLE REFUSES RESIGNATIONS OF TWO OF CABINET

New Governor Not Sure He'll Accept More Retirements

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11—(AP)—Gov. John Stelle announced today he would make a "personal investigation" of the Manteno state hospital epidemic, which took 60 lives last year before acting on resignations of Welfare Director A. L. Bowen and Health Director A. C. Baxter, both of which were submitted to the chief executive.

Stelle confirmed in a press conference that in addition to the Bowen and Baxter resignations, he had received offers of resignations from four other state directors in the "cabinet" of the late Governor Horner and had refused to accept any of them.

Directors he reappointed were Martin P. Durkin of the department of Labor, Thomas J. Lynch of conservation, Charles P. Casey of public works and buildings and John J. Hallihan of registration and education.

Will Go to Manteno
Stelle said he would go to Manteno next week to study the water supply problem at the big hospital for insane, and that meanwhile he would let the Bowen and Baxter resignations lie on his desk.

"If anything is done (about the resignations) it will be done on account of the Manteno situation," the governor said. "There is nothing personal about this, Mr. Bowen, I know, is a very hard worker."

Director Bowen, 71-year-old Republican holdover who has served 24 years in the welfare department under five governors, is under conviction for omission of duty in the Manteno case but his appeal is pending before the state Supreme court.

Previously Bowen had said he would not resign unless asked to do so by Stelle. Bowen conferred privately with Stelle today but would not discuss the meeting.

Stelle said he considered the Manteno situation one of joint responsibility of the health and welfare directors.

To Cut Red Tape
"I am going to cut all red tape and try to do something that should have been done years ago—stop drinking water for the Manteno hospital from the Kankakee water supply."

Stelle meant he favored connecting the hospital with the water system of nearby Kankakee, supplying the present supply of water for the hospital from wells. He would confer with Bowen and Dr. Baxter next week after his Manteno visit, Stelle added.

In announcing he had refused offers of Directors Durkin, Casey, Lynch and Hallihan, the governor would not say whether others of the Horner cabinet of code department chiefs had been asked to submit resignations for his acceptance or rejection.

Earlier Stelle had pointedly called for a "pledge of loyalty" from all of the directors who were

British Bombard Cherbourg Port Held by Germans

The War Today!

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

The projected axis offensive against Britain in the Mediterranean theater may be expected to develop quickly into a titanic struggle for control of this strategic area—a control for one of the foundation stones of the British empire.

Numerous small nations which now are non-belligerent are likely to be drawn in. Into this vast operation Hitler and Mussolini are bound to throw every ounce of power which they can muster.

This battle of the Mediterranean, as I see it, will break fresh military ground in that it will in its essence be a conflict between air-ships and warships—between the combined axis airfleets and the British navy.

Why? Because England rules the waves. Her domination of the waters of the Mediterranean is so complete at this moment that Italy can't even move troops or supplies to any great extent to her African possessions.

The axis must depend on its air-power, which is much greater than that of Britain, to counter this great naval strength.

The big offensive will give us a more complete test of the relative effectiveness of these two fighting arms when employed against each other.

We have seen that the German armada, which some experts expected would be able to plow England under in a few days, and smash the naval battle line, hasn't been able to achieve this. It would appear that in order to subdue England, the air attack must be supplemented by an invasion with infantry. The air hasn't been able to drive the British fleet to cover.

But this doesn't prove the big point of relative strength because the resistance of the Royal Air Force has been a major factor. In the battle of the Mediterranean, can the British will—certainly at the outset—lack this air power, for they must maintain their present defense of the mother country. Thus there will be a vast inequality in the opposing airforces. Then we may see whether the great axis bombers can break the British surface fleets in the Mediterranean, and also whether warplanes alone can reduce popula-

Collision Due to Carbon Monoxide?

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission reported today a finding that the railroad engineer whose fall resulted in a head-on collision fatal to 43 persons July 31 near Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, might have been a victim of carbon monoxide poisoning.

The accident involved a gasoline-electric coach and a freight train.

The ICC said that from its investigation "it is apparent that the engineman was not in full possession of his normal mental faculties while his train was traversing a distance of approximately four miles approaching the point of accident. The symptoms described and the mental and physical reactions of the engineman just prior to the time of the accident point toward the possibility that he may have been a victim of carbon monoxide poisoning. Research reports state that these persons are particularly susceptible to carbon monoxide poisoning. (Engineman Thomas L. Murtough was 5 feet, 8 inches tall and weighed 195 pounds.)"

The accident was on the Pennsylvania railroad.

(By The Associated Press)

British warships bombarded the German-held "invasion" base of Cherbourg on the French coast today, attacking boldly in a thick dawn haze, and set huge fires visible 40 miles away, the London Admiralty reported.

No damage or casualties were sustained by the sea raiders, the Admiralty said, adding:

"There was no naval opposition from the enemy although it was known that enemy light forces were at Cherbourg."

The Admiralty said heavy and light forces engaged in the assault—the first sizeable naval action in the English channel since the bloody retreat from Dunkerque last June.

Nazi quarters minimized the effect of the bombardment, asserting that only a single British cruiser "attempted" to shell the big shipping port and that it was routed by the fire of German coastal batteries which "showered" the cruiser with shells.

Acknowledge Bombings
The Germans acknowledged, however, that RAF bombers striking before dawn created havoc at the great north German port of Hamburg.

Rhodes Act Invalid Says Supreme Court

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11—(AP)—The Illinois Supreme court today held unconstitutional the Rhodes act requiring local referendum approval before payment of minimum firemen's and policemen's wages under the 1937 firemen's and policemen's act was required.

In effect, the decision would compel more than 50 Illinois cities to revert to the original provisions of the 1937 act and pay the minimum wages specified in that law from July 13, 1937, when the act became effective.

The minimum wage act requires payment of $150 a month to policemen and firemen by cities of from 10,000 to 25,000 population and $175 a month to the same classification by cities of from 25,000 to 150,000.

One member of that section crew is still in a hospital, although all the men escaped death in the leap.

and continues to grow each year. During the business session conducted by Mrs. Carroll Boston, president, reports were given by the various committee heads and brief reports of the August 12 tour made by a number of the women were summarized by Mrs. H. K. Marcott on the Elgin state hospital, Mrs. M. C. Small on the Geneva State School for Girls, and Mrs. F. B. Curley on Park Ridge School for Girls. As chairman of the committee on the constitution and by-laws, Mrs. Donovan Mills read the proposed substitutions which will be voted upon at the November meeting. The club voted to contribute to the same agencies and the same amounts as last year.

A delightful musical interlude between the business session and the address of the evening was furnished by Ralph Hudson, talented young violinist, who was accompanied by James Asp at the piano. He played "Valse Bluettes," by Richard Drigo, and "The Rain," by Carl Bohm.

Dr. H. J. Rendall of Morrison who spoke to the group on "American Citizenship," was introduced by Mrs. H. K. Marcott, parliamentarian, who serves as chairman of the American Citizenship committee. In his address Dr. Rendall covered a wide territory in citing the many reasons there are to be proud of one's citizenship. He stressed that one of the main duties of a citizen is to exercise his privilege to vote, calling attention to the fact that because from 25% to 33% fail to vote, the important positions which should have good men with common-sense principles are left to the mercy of the graft of political "machines". He emphasized that there is a decided difference between a statesman and a politician.

Another thing which Dr. Rendall considered of importance is the call of patriotism, exemplifying one's love for his country and his willingness to serve it. President of the Blackhawk Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America, Dr. Rendall is familiar with the constructive work which can be brought about for an average of $10 a year per boy, and compared this small sum to the several hundreds of dollars needed annually for each boy in the state institutions for correction after the boys have done wrong. It is the duty of the citizen, according to Dr. Rendall, to recognize the value of such from the standpoint of Americanism, keeping in mind the fact that the crime bill in America which is said to reach 15 billion dollars a year would run the federal government for the same period.

Dr. Rendall touched very briefly upon the foreign situation but did remark that the fifth column was the undoing of France, and that he felt that if, after a person had been in the United States for a certain period of time and did not take out his citizenship papers that he should be deported without hesitation because of his failure to recognize the traditional value of American citizenship and our democratic government.

The club officers and public school teachers were in the receiving line for the tea and reception which followed the program, for which a red, white and blue color scheme was used by the social committee. Mrs. Etta Rittenhouse and Mrs. Elmer Snowberger poured.

The November meeting of the club will be held on November 4, with Mrs. Glenn Craddock, chairman of the International Relations Department of the thirteenth district, speaking on "Facing Facts." Prior to that there are two other important dates on the October calendar. A number of the women plan to attend the Regional Institute to be held at Freeport on Friday, October 18. Reservations for the 2:30 p. m. luncheon should be in the hands of Mrs. Carroll Boston or Mrs. G. S. Powers by Tuesday, October 15.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to well and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Loans to England

Tipsters are free with the prediction that the British government shortly will be in dire need of funds with which to buy defense equipment from the United States. After all, the British had only so much money, securities and credit facilities at their command when the war began, and much of this has been exhausted. As long as the British insist upon the traditional way of financing a war their resources will grow less and less. There is another item to consider. Nazi bombing planes have to a greater or less degree interrupted the manufacture of munitions in England. What England has been unable to manufacture at home must be purchased abroad.

Loans to England can be made in one of two ways, once the Johnson act is repealed. The British government could contract with an American airplane manufacturer for a thousand bombing planes to be paid for either by the year, in installments, or on a certain designated date. The Yankee manufacturer could either pay for the manufacture out of his own pocket, or he could dispose of the British government's notes to banks or private investors. But as long as conditions remain as they are, with the British quoted as having only a 50-50 or even a 60-40 chance of winning the war, these promises to pay would be subject to a heavy discount, thus making the planes extremely high-priced.

Or, the British government could deal directly with the American government. Uncle Sam could advance credits to the British and sell bonds here with Uncle Sam's promise to pay added to Britain's promise to pay.

We cite the failure of the latter plan, as tried during the World War, at the risk of being charged with nagging the British while they have their hands more than full. But we do not cite it as an argument against giving some sort of rational financial aid to Britain. We call attention to it, rather, as an argument that the American taxpayer be protected against shouldering another 12 billions of defaults when that clearly can be avoided. It can and must be avoided if any government in the future is to have trust in any other government. The American taxpayer is a long-suffering and patient goat, but another thimblebripping such as he suffered following the World War is calculated to disturb his faith in humanity at large.

Promises to pay in gold, obviously, are out of the question. Promises to pay in paper money not backed by gold are only as good as that paper money might become during the economic whirlwinds and political earthquakes that follow every major war. The American people are entitled to some sort of security, such as the pledge of British possessions in those areas. But all that presumes that British credit has been restored—which is not a fact. First there should be an understanding about the old debts. Then new ones could be considered.

It Pays to Vote

One of the ways in which an accurate expression of the voters can be guaranteed next November 5 is for every voter to see that every voter has a chance to cast his or her ballot.

Outside of Cook county in Illinois only 70 per cent of the voters went to the polls in 1936. In Rock Island county 20,033 persons eligible to vote failed to exercise their franchise. Still, it was a warm election, and any one of the voters would have felt insulted had he been told he didn't care about its results.

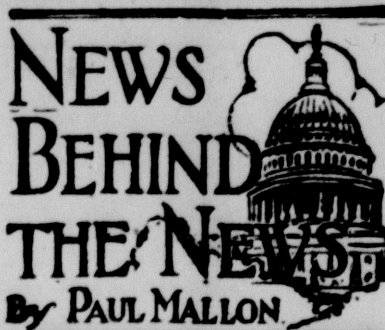

Nearly 9,500 Henry county voters neglected to go to the polls in 1936, and Whiteside county had 9,857 who stayed at home.

In the same election only 50 per cent of the people in Arizona voted; Florida, 37.8 per cent; Maine, 62.4 per cent, and Oregon, 66.6 per cent went to the polls.

It is exceedingly important, for the sake of honest elections, that people in the rural districts, where ballots are almost certain to be counted honestly, get out and vote to help offset the large city machines where ballots are counted whether they are cast or not, and where they are sometimes changed to suit the gangsters and ward heelers.

Living voters in rural and small city districts need to go to the polls, because in the gangster-dominated areas the graveyards give up their dead. There is a resurrection in every important election, and the dead march forth from the great city cemeteries to vote as they are told. Empty houses are suddenly found packed with voters who invariably favor the machine ticket.

The day after the election the ghosts are back in their graves; the empty houses are vacant again; the children are again below voting age, aliens resume their voteless status, criminals are again disfranchised and repeaters no longer have several residences. All this seems to mean little to the voters out on the prairies, but these illegal means may put the wrong senator in office; the wrong man in the governor's chair, and the wrong man in the White House. Protection of the American way demands eternal vigilance.

Washington, October 10 — Mr. Roosevelt's board of diplomatic strategists is inclined to regard the Japanese crisis as our Munich.

Definite inside information has come to it designating the British naval stronghold at Singapore as the real Japanese objective. The over-running of Indo-China is accepted as a prelude to a march into Siam on the coast road with Singapore as its destination.

The strategists have decided definitely that they will not let that happen. Control of Singapore involves the domination of the entire Indian and East Indian area. If the Japs can get it they can wrest the whole British Far Eastern empire from London. They can supervise further the politics and economics of the hitherto friendly and quiet tin and rubber realm of Oceania including the Dutch East Indies and eventually Australia.

This vast new conception of the background of the Japanese military has upset Roosevelt's advisers considerably. They see in it not only the threatened dismemberment of the friendly British empire of Hitler next blow would be at a vital exposed spot, he did not exaggerate) but also an ultimate threat to the United States. The power that could be wielded by Japan if such a gigantic move of expansion could be successfully conducted, would automatically drive this country out of the Pacific and back upon its heels in this hemisphere.

"That is why we intend to be firm," says one of the unofficial board.

The insiders are divided in their personal forecasts as to the outcome of the game of power diplomacy upon which we have entered with Japan. The customary answer heard here to the oft-repeated question of whether there will be war within a few weeks, is "It all depends on the Japs." Prevailing impression is that the situation has plunged the course of this country into a seething river in which the fateful current will have as much to do with determining the course of events as the will of statesmen.

The top men obviously hope, but are not convinced, that Japan will moderate the further development of her policy when she is met with a firmer attitude than the axis encountered at Munich. But the fleet is being almost feverishly prepared for the possibility the hopes are unjustified even to the extent of adopting "Pop-Eye" and his swinging fist, reinforced with spinach, as the new navy emblem.

Every effort is being made by officials to soften the domestic effect of the diplomatic blows that are being exchanged. This government's urgent invitation to its citizens to withdraw from the Far East as soon as possible, was not announced where it would have received wider publicity but in Shanghai.

Even so officials complained that the press over-stressed the importance of the move. They claimed it is being almost feverishly prepared for the possibility the hopes are unjustified even to the extent of adopting "Pop-Eye" and his swinging fist, reinforced with spinach, as the new navy emblem.

No one in authority here believes Hitler and Mussolini planned anything to defeat Roosevelt's reelection, or could if they wanted to. The official grapevine from Rome has brought no intelligence to the White House suggesting anything is to be done.

The current serious discussion of something that never happened and is not intended, arose solely because Roosevelt plucked from his pocket the Mathews dispatch to the New York Times and read parts of it to a press conference not however the part in which Mathews vaguely speculated on how much Hitler and Mussolini disliked Roosevelt prior to their Brenner Pass meeting. It was water on Roosevelt's campaign wheel and he never has missed a drop yet.

That excellent publicity for the third term cause is likely to be the only consequence.

Boy, 12, Confessed to Throwing Playmate, 3, Into Kalamazoo River

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Sheriff's deputies dragged the Kalamazoo river today for the body of a 3-year-old Ronald Hubbard after Sheriff Charles Struble said a 12-year-old playmate told of throwing the child into the water because "he wouldn't stop crying."

The drowning followed a game of "Cops and Robbers" yesterday, Sheriff Struble said that Richard Terrell, 12, after first insisting that Ronald fell into the river, finally told this story:

"When Ronald took off his coveralls and refused to put them back on again, I hit him with a stick and he began to cry. He wouldn't stop crying and I was afraid he would tell that I hit him, so I picked him up and threw him in the river."

NEW YORK JUNGLE
BY WRAY WADE SEVERN

YESTERDAY: Hugh shoots the lock on the door as the storm drashes about them. Rushing upstairs, the men find all doors and windows locked, and no evidence of an intruder. There is a scream from the jungle. When candles are brought, Braithwood sees Adam, leaning oddly against the lonesome. Maria Hemphield is at his feet. Near her hand is Adam's gun.

DEATH IN THE JUNGLE

CHAPTER IV

ADAM LANGDON'S hands hung stiffly forward, his feet extended toward the floor like a figure hung on a gibbet. A small red spot stained the bosom of his shirt. The gaping rigidity in his face told the rest. So might some dreadful scarecrow have appeared to a passing farmer on a moonless night in a lingering ray of lantern light.

Langdon's buttoned coat had caught over the lonesome's head and the scimitar, fastened to the beast's neck, had penetrated beneath his shoulder, both helping to hold him in crazy erectness. All this Braithwood saw in a glance.

"Is it a double murder?" Craig Gundrum asked.

"Murder! Not that!" Hugh groaned.

THE word had an eerie sound in that dark room. Yet it was no stranger there. The shadowy beasts crowding the darkness had all known violent deaths. The weapons on wall and rack had drunk deep from the wild, free life of jungle and veldt; the ancient blunderbusses and obsolete daggers had been employed to grim purpose more than once.

But the six persons in the room reacted to it in oddly different ways. It sponged the blond vigor from Hugh Langdon's powerful face; Nella had refused to uncover her eyes and face the horror that had been her uncle a few short moments before. At the table, Patricia Langdon had frozen in her seat, apparently unable to utter a sound. Togi trembled perceptibly. Gundrum's eyes were brilliant with excitement. Braithwood was shocked, but calm.

Sidney had dropped to his knees beside Maria. It was only after a moment, when he tried to reconstruct the scene, that he recalled hearing Gundrum whispering to Pat Langdon.

MARTA was alive. Her pulse, however faint, her breathing, told Sidney that. She stirred slightly as he bent over her.

"Marta has only fainted," said Hugh, who had joined them. "I thought at first it might be murder and suicide."

Between them they carried Marta to the window seat. Sidney brought liquor from the table and forced it through her bloodless lips, while Hugh and Togi began a search of the jungle for traces of the murderer. It seemed impossible he could have passed them on the stairway and made his escape through the floor above, but there was no other exit.

Marta stirred. Her eyelids fluttered and then she had caught the lawyer's hand in a desperate grip.

"Adam is dead, Sidney," she whispered. "I felt his face."

"Do you know who killed my husband, Miss Hemphield?" Pat Langdon had crossed to them. All the strength of her young will lay behind the question.

"No, I do not know who killed Adam, Mrs. Langdon," Marta muttered, "but I know he is dead."

"Please do not question Miss Hemphield. She is too weak to talk," Sidney said, sternly. "Marta, you are not to discuss this with anyone."

HE was certain Langdon had not shot himself. No powder burns framed the red spot on his shirt front.

And above all others, Marta had a motive for murder. She had been found lying at Adam's feet, all but grasping the weapon with which he had armed himself. She had admitted she knew he was dead. Alert in her defense, the lawyer realized the need for caution.

"Sorry," Pat turned toward the lonesome and its dreadful burden. Sidney followed.

"Nothing must be touched," he cautioned them. "We must wait for the police."

"Do we need to call the police?" Nella questioned plaintively. "Can't you all see how this happened?" Uncle Adam was standing on the lonesome's block. I don't

Miss Barton Tells P.T. A. About Indian Education

Miss Esther Barton, principal of the Lincoln grade school, was guest speaker at Wednesday evening's meeting of the North Central Parent-Teacher association in the school auditorium. Her subject was "Education of the American Indian," and her remarks were based on personal observations while visiting various Indian reservations during the past few years.

A deep interest in the welfare of the "first Americans" has led Miss Barton to devote much time to the study of their customs and accomplishments. On Wednesday evening, she discussed three types of Indian schools: Day schools, conducted in pueblos or on reservations; the boarding schools of Santa Fe, N. M.; and the Mission schools.

The government, she told her audience, allows an appropriation for the missions, and the others are mostly under supervision of the Bureau of Indian Affairs. That many Indians are artistic and creative is evident in the manner in which they progress under supervision.

The government provides regular inspection by doctors, nurses and dentists, although some still seek the advice of Medicine Men. Most Indians, Miss Barton, stated, accept the Christian religion, but it is said they put it on "like an extra coat." Progressives are those who have abandoned the Indian religion entirely, and are few in number, as the Indian religious ceremonies are both impressive and devout.

In addition to her lecture, Miss Barton displayed several pictures painted by Indian artists.

Mrs. Gordon Bennett, newly-elected president, was in charge of the business meeting, and announced that high rating recognition in health standards for grade schools has been received by both the North Central and Loveland districts. Mrs. Cal Tyler submitted a report of the Summer Round-Up clinic.

Robert Pruitt, principal of the school, introduced the faculty members, and outlined several projects suggested by the financial committee. It was agreed to sponsor a Cub pack for another year.

Mrs. Bennett's co-officers include: Vice president, Mrs. Buri Lepard; secretary, Mrs. B. J. Frazier; treasurer, Miss Virginia Klein; membership chairman, Mrs. Arthur Cron; assistant financial chairman, Mrs. Robert Sanborn; program chairman, Mrs. Walter Fallstrom; hospitality chairman, Mrs. Frank Deutsch.

Parents should always be on the alert to detect foot trouble in their children. One way of detecting trouble is to check the knees of the child. If one knee-cap is lower than the other, it may mean that one of the foot arches is sagging from its normal position. ## Takes Dozen Roles in One Ballet

MARTHA PICKEN

It is believed there is no other professional performer on the stage who plays a more unique role than Martha Picken, narrator for the Junior Programs Ballet company, which arrives in Dixon on Monday to give a 4 o'clock performance of "Robin Hood" at the Dixon high school auditorium under sponsorship of the combined Parent-Teacher associations.

The production features Edwin Strawbridge, and was directed by Saul Lancourt. Miss Picken, not long out of her teens, speaks as many as 15 different roles during the hour and a half performance. She changes her voice with incredible swiftness and accuracy in order to pace her narration with the movements of the dancers.

The entire student body of 17 from Mrs. Gail Dickey's Oak Forest school are planning to attend Monday afternoon's show. Other rural schools responding to an invitation to join the ballet-goers include: Thirteen students of the Gap Grove school and their teacher, Mrs. Clara Brauer; five from Stony Point, Mrs. Coral Lambert and Mrs. Cross, teachers; seven from the Garrison school, Miss Olive Bowman, teacher; and seven from the Hazelwood school taught by Miss Vera Anning. Other schools plan to complete their plans for attending during the weekend.

About 50 guests turned out for the event, which took place at the Hotel Nachusa, with Harry Bates, Elwin Wadsworth, the Rev. H. J. Doran, Earl Kennedy and J. L. Glassburn composing the committee.

A musical program, a novel skit modeled after the "Take it or Leave it" radio program, and progressive card games, together with the traditional pranks expected by all those familiar with the "duties" of the club's official tail-twister, provided a full evening of merriment and entertainment.

Dr. George McGraham, the club president, presided. The musical numbers included piano accordion solos by Donna Mae Palmer, group singing led by Mr. Doran with Mrs. Doran at the piano, and numbers by the Barber Shop trio, composed of Mr. Doran, Earl Auman, and Floyd Smith.

TRAFFIC FATALITY

(Chicago, Oct. 11.—AP)—Chester Mitchell, 55, president of the Mitchell Brewing Company, Mokena, Ill., was fatally injured yesterday when his automobile missed a curve and plunged down a deep embankment at Mannheim Road near 95th street in Palos Park. His widow, Eleanor, 50, and eight children survive.

Wheat is believed to have originated in Mesopotamia and was first cultivated there. It was introduced to the western hemisphere in the 16th century.

It is estimated that the automobile and allied industries provide for more than 6,000,000 jobs in the United States.

The Script Calls For Wedding Bells

Hollywood scenario writer Owen Cramp, Jr., outlined a script to screen actress Lucile Fairbanks, above, in which they would be co-stars and live happily ever after. She took an option on it—and so the couple announced they would be married at Montecito, Calif., on October 12.

British Bombard

men denied any such intention but nervousness prevailed there and elsewhere in the Orient.

Britain followed the United States' example of "freezing" Rumanian credits amid signs of a break in Anglo-Rumanian relations following the "drang nach Osten" (march to the east) infiltration of German troops into the rich Balkan oil kingdom.

Formations totalling some 150 planes, marked with German and Rumanian insignia, roared back and forth over Bucharest and several oil towns, and swooped low over the British legation in Bucharest where the staff was packing hurriedly to flee the country.

Quartered Near King

At the same time, German aviators arrived at a hotel across from the royal palace, where the new 18-year-old King Mahal rules under a pro-Nazi dictatorship.

Meanwhile, in Budapest, the official Hungarian news agency said Hungary had asked for Rome-Berlin axis intervention to settle disputes with Rumania. Students in the Hungarian capital demonstrated against Rumania.

DNR, the official German news agency, reported with unusual frankness that British bombs spread "devastation visible over a radius of five-eighths of a mile" and left "a shambles of ashes" in two sections of Hamburg.

Casualties were listed as three killed, 15 seriously wounded and many more slightly wounded.

German warplanes attacking London for the 36th consecutive night were reported to have dropped 496,000 pounds of bombs on the British capital alone. Other Nazi raiders tripped their bomb racks over 20 provincial areas from the Thames estuary through the great industrial midlands to Liverpool, where Hitler's high command reported "big fires" were left raging.

Second Assault on Amsterdam

The Germans also reported that RAF bombers attacked Amsterdam in Nazi-occupied Holland, dropping 18 and wounding 20 in the second heavy assault on the Dutch city this week.

More than 50 London districts were hit by bombs in the night-long German raids, and Nazi warplanes sprayed a series of alarms as they returned to assault the capital by daylight.

Today's "invasion weather:" Calm seas in Strait of Dover; skies clear.

Other major developments crowded the international picture:

1. An open rupture between Great Britain and Rumania appeared imminent as great numbers of German troops, guns and equipment were reported entering the Balkan kingdom by rail and on Danube river barges via Yugoslavia.

2. In London, the British said information "which cannot be regarded as satisfactory" had been received from Sir Reginald Hoare, British ambassador to Bucharest. The London press demanded that Sir Reginald be recalled immediately.

3. Rumania's legation counselor in London quit his post and resigned from the Rumanian diplomatic service. He was quoted as saying: "I should never allow myself to be associated with a government which has surrendered to a foreign power."

Turkey Next Target?

4. German official circles in Bucharest charged that Turkey has been commissioned by Great Britain to attack Rumanian oil fields by air. More and more, Turkey appeared as the next target of a heralded axis thrust into southeast Europe.

5. Amid an official "softer attitude" by Japan toward the United States States, Emperor Hirohito of Japan reviewed a huge display of Japanese naval power off Yokohama—more than 100 warships and 250 fighting planes.

Domel, the authoritative Japanese news agency, said "great importance must be attached to this naval demonstration at the present moment," an obvious reference to badly-strained United States-Japanese relations.

Japanese foreign office spokesman Yakihiro Suma declared at a press conference that "responsible people on both sides of the Pacific should be very calm."

Washington Concerned

Concern was aroused in Washington, however, by the possibility of trouble in Shanghai as the result of the slaying early today of the city's puppet mayor, Fu Siao-en, and a Japanese army officer.

Informed sources feared the assassination of the Japanese-sponsored mayor might occasion new Japanese attempts to take over the entire International Settlement.

Advices from London disclosed yesterday that Britain and the United States are studying the whole question of cooperation in the Pacific, including the possibility of joint action in withholding war supplies from Japan.

The United States yesterday ordered reinforcements to Hawaii called up 5,700 Marine Corps and cut off delivery of 10 warplanes to Thailand (Siam), whose demands on French Indo-China are believed in some official quarters to be supported by Japan.

On the European side, President Roosevelt "froze" some $100,000,000 of Rumanian-owned money and securities in the United States to keep them out of the hands of the Germans.

The British credited accurate anti-aircraft gunnery with minimizing damage and casualties done by overnight Nazi raiders who ranged all over England, paying particular attention to London and Liverpool.

Confessed Slaver of Policeman Has Again Escaped Death Chair

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Jerry Mangano, confessed slayer of a Chicago policeman, was saved from death in the electric chair for the third time today when the Illinois Supreme Court reversed the death sentence and directed that a new trial be held in the Cook county Criminal court.

The court "conceded by the evidence" that Mangano shot and killed Policeman Harry Francois during a holdup in Humboldt Park, Chicago, last Nov. 20, but ruled that improper evidence introduced at his trial may have influenced the jury to order the death sentence.

Twice before Mangano had faced death in the electric chair—on Feb. 23 and April 19—but appeals staved off the penalty.

The decision, delivered by Justice Loren E. Murphy, held that the state's attorney acted promptly in producing witnesses who testified to seven other crimes, including robbery and rape, with which Mangano was charged. Mangano denied those charges.

United Auto Workers, General Motors Agree on Permanent Umpire

Detroit, Oct. 11.—(AP)—A new era in labor relations for the automotive industry was hailed today following the appointment of a permanent umpire on labor disputes by the General Motors Corporation and the CIO United Automobile Workers.

Fulfilling a clause in their contract signed last June, the union and corporation announced they had selected Dr. H. A. Mills, professor emeritus of economics at the University of Chicago and long a national figure in labor arbitration, to act as a court of final appeal on specified points of difference.

Wage rates and timings of operations, however, are specifically withheld from the umpire's jurisdiction.

Episcopalians in Convention Boost Triennial Budget

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 11.—(AP)—A three-year budget of $2,212,000—10 per cent higher than that of the past triennial—was proposed today at a joint session of the Houses of Bishops and Deputies of the Protestant Episcopal church convention.

Chief increase would be $117,000 to finance missionary work, particularly in India, now sponsored by the war-weakened mother church of England.

Episcopal women, in their traditional Holy Communion service, contributed $974,089.70 as a thank offering. The fund was $100,000 larger than at the 1937 convention.

The money will be devoted to construction of schools and hospitals and to foreign aid domestic missions.

The proposal to aid British missions was in response to a plea from the Rt. Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of Canterbury, and recommendations by Presiding Bishop Henry St. George Tucker of Richmond, Va., head of the American church.

Delegates said the $117,000 would be swelled considerably by contributions by dioceses throughout the nation.

The War Today

The land operations, naturally will include a continuation of the Italian invasion of Egypt across the desert from Libya. The fascists also may strike into the Sudan from Ethiopia and thence down the Nile.

Then, of course, there are many signs that the axis may try to drive down through the Balkans in an effort to clamp a great pair of pincers on the British by attacking them from the east as well as the west.

The extent of such operations will, to my mind, depend on Russia's attitude. The Muscovites with small doubt are fuming over this axis invasion of the Balkans, since it not only is inimical to Russian interests in that region but establishes a direct military threat against the soviet.

Not to put too fine a point on it it seems to me that the well-nigh inevitable war between Russia and Germany is a mighty sight nearer. However, should the Russian threat become grave, the Nazi Fuehrer and his colleague may confine their activities to the Balkans to consolidating their position and acquiring bases for operations.

Party for Andy Wald

One of the most enjoyable parties held this fall was given at the Odd Fellows hall Friday, October 4, when 138 friends and patrons on old Route 2 out of Earlville gathered to honor "Andy" as he is known to all.

Mrs. C. J. Poltsch, Mrs. Forrest Hough, Miss Edith Adams and Mrs. Roy Woods made the route in person and as the result of their soliciting "Andy" was presented with a Bulova wrist watch by Gus Mende, of Earlville, who reminded "Andy" that the people on his route hadn't forgotten the times he had walked and carried the mail when roads were impassable and packages were brought to the door when too large for the mail box. "Andy" responded with his thanks, but the expression on his face told all the way he felt.

Mrs. Alvin Kehm had charge of the games. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kelley played for some old time dances with Jack Atherton calling and cards were enjoyed by those who wished to play.

A delicious lunch was served by the committee to close the party.

Conference Moves Many

In the United Methodist church there is a definite emphasis on a minister's remaining a long time in a parish. This is in contrast with the time when the Methodists had a three-year rule which limited a man's stay to three years regardless of how much his congregation loved him. Last Monday morning, Rev. John H. Delacy was returned to the Thoburn Methodist church of Chicago for the 51st year. Rev. H. O. Loeppert closed 25 years of service to the First German Methodist church of Chicago. Thirteen have been fifteen or more years in their present church.

Among the former pastors of the Paw Paw and Compton Methodist churches, Fred Graham returned to Gross Park for his fifth year; M. D. Bayly to Albany Park for his third year; Joseph Burrows to Elmhurst for his sixth year; H. K. Taylor to St. Stephens for his fifth year; R. N. Joscelyn to Westmore; Joseph Thomas to Geneva for his third year; Warren Hutchinson to Capron and Blaine for the fourth year; W. L. Manny to Mt. Morris for the fourth year; E. Ward to Plano for the second year; L. E. Winter to Minooka for the fourth year; R. J. L. McKelvey to Greenwood and Ringwood for the second year, and Lloyd Coleman to Morrison for the second year. The present pastor, James H. Hagerty, was returned for his second year in this parish.

From this it is evident that our former pastors did not move any this year. However, there were others close by who did. Rev. Paul G. Dibble of Rochelle, goes to Aurora Fourth Street; Rev. John Robeson of Mendota, goes to Rochelle; Rev. John Finley of Hinckley, moves to St. Charles and R. P. Richardson, of Sheridan, comes to Hinckley. Harrison Daves comes to Cortland and Maple Park. W. B. Morgan comes to Sycamore from Humboldt Park, Chicago.

The Embury Methodist church of Freeport entertained the conference royally and for one day, Friday, the conference met in the Community gymnasium of Mt. Morris and dedicated a monument on the outskirts of the village marking the site of the founding of Rock River conference 100 years ago.

A more detailed article will appear next week.

Franklin, Jr. Thinks His 'Old Man More Capable'

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 11—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie is a "very fine man," in the view of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., who thinks, however, that "my old man is a little more capable" of being president.

Speaking at a political forum at the New Jersey College for Women last night, Roosevelt struck at what he said were rumors the President was preparing the country for war, and asserted his father "loves peace."

The car collided head on with a freight train headed west, and car was entirely demolished. Mr. Kyker received an injured shoulder and the two Marshalls were the most seriously injured. William Marshall, aged 63, had a bad scalp laceration that necessitated 35 or 40 stitches and his son John, aged 35, received head and face lacerations. ## A Special Delivery

There's one stamp which you can't buy for three or ten cents at the United States post office—and that's the stamp of approval. However, Peter Phalen of the local federal building is willing to trade in 20 football predictions for a high percentage in today's special delivery. As second the grid forecasters, Phalen aims at a mark set last week by Earl James who tallied a .75 count.

Today's crystal gazer, a White Sox fan and manager of the Dixon Junior American Legion baseball team, leans heavily on sentiment in picking several of the games—and with no better address, general delivery sometimes works just as well.

The window at the post office will be slammed shut at one o'clock tomorrow afternoon and if you can't find Phalen it's probably because he's dialing his radio back and forth between 20 games of football.

See you Monday, Pete when they pick off those gridmen and find on what yard stripe your pigskin predictions landed.

By PETER PHALEN

Texas at Oklahoma. Cowboys versus Indians. I'll take the men with the spurs. Texas 14, Oklahoma 0.

Baylor at Arkansas. Ask any Cub fan why I pick Baylor. Baylor 27, Arkansas 7.

Columbia at Dartmouth. This may be wrong, but Dartmouth will have to show more than last week. Columbia 21, Dartmouth 7.

Carnegie Tech at Holy Cross. Another shot in the dark, but Holy Cross took an awful drubbing from Louisiana State. Carnegie Tech 14, Holy Cross 0.

Ohio State at Northwestern. My better judgment says no, but as a tribute to a good White Sox fan, I'm pulling for an upset. What say, Fritz? Northwestern 14, Ohio State 7.

Wisconsin at Iowa. Two home town lads here, but one of them played in my back yard. So it's Iowa all the way.

Michigan at Harvard. Tom Harmon should make the difference here. Michigan 21, Harvard 7.

Indiana at Nebraska. I may be a little shaky here, but I think the Cornhuskers' passing will do the trick. Nebraska 20, Indiana 7.

Washington State at California. After a close win over St. Mary's, this should be easy. California 13, Washington State 0.

Oregon at Washington. This should be close as both looked good last week. Washington 13, Oregon 7.

Santa Clara at Stanford. Another win for Clark Shaughnessy and his Indians. Stanford 14, Santa Clara 0.

Mississippi at Georgia. Two fine teams from Dixie, but the nod goes to Mississippi. Mississippi 18, Georgia 13.

Georgia Tech at Notre Dame. Remembering the close one last year, the Irish will be on their toes for this one. Notre Dame 14, Georgia Tech 7.

Southern Methodist at Pittsburgh. Southern Methodist will soften the claws of the Panthers in this one. Southern Methodist 20, Pittsburgh 7.

Tulane at Fordham. Pretty well matched but the game is in New York, therefore it's Fordham. Fordham 21, Tulane 14.

Southern California at Illinois. If Zuppke must have an upset, let it be this team instead of Notre Dame. Illinois 19, Southern California 13.

Purdue at Michigan State. The Boilermakers should take this after holding the Buckeyes to a 3-point margin. Purdue 14, Michigan State 0.

Cornell at Army. Just another victory added to Cornell's already long string. Cornell 20, Army 6.

Tale at Pennsylvania. A bit conservative on this one as Pennsylvania should win by a large margin. Pennsylvania 27, Yale 14.

Navy at Princeton. Navy by one touchdown. "They took us over and brought us back." There are some good sailors. Navy 14, Princeton 7.

Next Week: Coach Jim Dominetta of Amboy

Happy Thought for Today

Dixon duck hunters may feel a shadow of coming events as they trot off to the blinds with their guns on their shoulders next Wednesday morning. It's the day that the season opens and the day all we guys between 21 and 35 will register under the conscription act.

To Pro Game Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gonnemann are among the Dixon fans who will attend the pro game between the Detroit Lions and the Chicago Bears in Chicago Sunday. Both teams are tied with Green Bay Packers for the lead in the league with one defeat each.

Strategy, Eh?

One of the Chicago papers came out this morning with the news that Gerald Ankeny was among the varsity backs at Iowa who participated in an hour of scrimmage yesterday. Gerald, a quarterback, may be used according to Coach Eddie Anderson against Wisconsin Saturday "for strategic reasons." Humpf! We all know darn well what that means. It's pitting two former Dixon athletes against each other! No one in this neck of the woods is fooled.

May Start Tonight

When Dixon's gridmen left Princeton last Friday night they left behind a string of injuries to the Tigers' squad. Two regular linemen, Captain Clayton Shipp and Center Bill Smith, were hurt but are expected to get into the game with Belvidere tonight.

High Bowlers

Ed Worley continues to pace the bowlers in the big 16-team Classic League with an average of 198 for 15 games. Other high keepers of the same circuit are: Klein with 194 in 15 games; Breeding with 193 in nine games; Dorschbach and Wolfe each with 186 in 18 games; Davis with 181 in 15 games and Becker with 180 in 18 games.

Byron Tops Six Man Loop

Byron, the defending champions of the Northern Illinois Six-Man Football League, continued its winning ways as the teams neared the half way mark of the season. Three opponents have been met and defeated by Byron. Shabbona has won one and lost one; La Moille has won one and lost two and Lanark has lost two.

Coach Zuppke of Illinois May Unveil One of His Masterpieces Tomorrow

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 11—(AP)—Robert Carl Zuppke, who works in football and oils, may unveil one of his famed surprise masterpieces Saturday afternoon.

The "Rembrandt of Old Champaign," whose works of art on canvas are almost as widely known as his works of art on the gridiron, will send his Illinois football team against Southern California's Trojans, Illinois will be the underdog. Illinois will be outwitted. And Illinois has been routed in its last two games with the west coast eleven.

All of which may set the stage for another of the upsets for which the wily "Zup" long has been famed—an upset which would splash a distinctly rosy glow on what is now a rather gloomy Illinois football picture.

Zuppke wants to win this one. He wants to win it as much as he wanted to win against Michigan last fall, when the heavily favored Michigan eleven and Tom Harmon ran into a stunning 16 to 7 reversal. And Zup and his players apparently are in the same frame of mind as they were the week preceding that amazing win over Michigan.

The puckish little mentor, usually full of wisecracks, growled pessimistically today: "We hope to make a better showing than we did last year." (The score then was U. S. C. 26, Illinois 0).

Feel Confident

On the other hand, Zuppke's players feel confident they can take the measure of a team which has played ties with Washington State and Oregon State in its first two games. Illinois opened its season last Saturday by defeating Bradley 31 to 0.

Illinois chances for victory Saturday, aside from the psychological keying up which Zup will give his squad right up to kickoff time, may ride largely on the shoulders of little Jimmy Easterbrook, who can run and pass. Against Bradley, Illinois completed 15 of 25 aerials.

The Illinois backfield likely will be made up of Easterbrook, Myron Pfeiffer, a sophomore, at fullback, Ralph Ehni at quarterback and George Rettinger at right halfback. Southern California was expected to depend on its usual backfield of Bob Peoples at quarter, Bob Robertson and Bill Bundy at halves, and Jack Banta at fullback.

WILBERFORCE AND TUSKEGEE MEET IN CHICAGO TONIGHT

Chicago, Oct. 11—(AP)—Wilberforce University's heavy eleven, its line averaging 210 pounds, will face Tuskegee Institute of Alabama, the favorite tonight in their 11th annual football game which will be played at Soldier Field.

Last year Tuskegee upset Wilberforce for its third victory of the series. Wilberforce has won four games and three have been ties.

THURSDAY LEAGUE KEGLERS MAINTAIN THEIR STATUS QUO

Round-Up Continues to Lead But Only With One Game Margin

Members of the Commercial League met for their weekly session at the Dixon Recreation alleys last night and decided to preserve the status quo. For instance, the Round-Up five was still top team and all individual and team records remained unscathed.

Although the Round-Up still tops the league for another week, the top perch is swinging back and forth and the standings are rather wobbly. Last night, three Dixon Telegraph keglers, with the aid of a handicap routed the Round-Up two games. Shultz topped the winners with a 510 series and Meyers rolled 547 for the losers.

Cahill's Electrics sparked under the influence of new shirts and won three games from Reynolds Wire to take over second place in the league. Gehant led the winners with a 499 series and Winebrenner counted 518 for the wiremen.

The Candy Box dropped out of second place in losing two games to Sparky's Fenders. Bubrick rolled 479 to lead the winners and Bondi's 467 paced the sweets shop team.

National Tea won two games from Coss Dairy as Courtright rolled 494 for the winners and Bones Carlson counted 493 for the milkmen.

Friday Shultz' third game count of 200 was high for the evening. Scores and standings:

AP SCRIBE TAKES BLINDFOLD TEST TO PICK WINNERS

Baker Names Wisconsin, Ohio State, Southern Cal. to Triumph

By HERB BAKER

New York, Oct. 11—(AP)—Playing the weekly game of football blind man's bluff:

Notre Dame-Georgia Tech: The engineers nearly pulled last year's game out of the fire and take a fast tricky squad to South Bend again. There's real danger for the Irish here but the vote goes to Notre Dame.

Harvard-Michigan: Since Harmon apparently is out to eclipse his brilliant 1939 record, there's no possible choice but Michigan.

Fordham-Tulane: Fordham.

Pitt-Southern Methodist: Pitt looked good against Missouri last week but this is a Mustang of another color. S. M. U.

Illinois-Southern California: The Trojans haven't been exactly a Trojan fire so far but they have a knack of doing well against inter-sectional rivals. A sheer guess, Southern California.

North Carolina-Texas Christian: Texas Christian gets the nod here.

Louisiana-South Carolina: Looks like more trouble for South Carolina. Duquesne.

Villanova-Florida: Taking Villanova.

U. C. L. A.-Texas Aggies: The Aggies.

Northwestern-Ohio State: Who brought this up? The Wildcats' line supposedly was a doubtful quantity but there wasn't anything wrong with it against Syracuse. It's a gamble at best and the indicator spins and points to Ohio State.

Army-Cornell: This ballot for Cornell expresses doubt that Army is equipped to do more than keep the score within reasonable bounds.

Stanford-Santa Clara: Clark Shaughnessy has done an amazing job at Stanford but the nod in this one goes to Santa Clara.

Texas-Oklahoma: Texas.

Arkansas-Baylor: The coin spins and says... Baylor.

Rice-Louisiana State: One doctrl blinking vote for Rice.

California-Washington State: Washington State.

Oregon-Washington: Must take Washington.

Boston College-Temple: The Eagles have the stuff... Boston College.

Penn-Yale: Ditto Penn but this one might be awfully close.

Princeton-Navy: Close enough probably but Dave Alleridge's passing might provide the winning margin. Princeton.

Dartmouth-Columbia: It's in a timid mood that this vote is cast for Columbia.

Brown-Colgate: Taking Colgate.

Holy Cross-Carnegie Tech: Probably close and certainly grueling. Out of the hat, Carnegie Tech.

New York University-Syracuse: N. Y. U. seems to have the shade.

Penn. State-West Virginia: Even-Stephen... Penn State.

Iowa-Wisconsin: No real life on Iowa yet so... Wisconsin.

Nebraska-Indiana: A tough one. Still Nebraska.

Michigan State-Purdue: Purdue, but the Boilermakers had better watch Michigan State's passers.

Vanderbilt-Kentucky: Kentucky is really strong and rafe's the call.

Kansas State-Missouri: Missouri gets the nod.

Kansas-Drake: May regret it but taking Drake.

Marquette-Iowa State: Marquette.

Sophomores of Purdue May Be Team's Salvation

LaFayette, Ind., Oct. 11—(AP)

Sophomores—those carefree young men who don't have enough press clippings yet to increase their hat sizes—promise to lift Purdue from the "forgotten team" class in the Western Conference football race.

When the 1940 gridiron season opened, the master minds of the "Big Nine" looked over the dope sheets, found Purdue had lost 26 letters by graduation and promptly forgot the Boilermakers so far as this year's championship was concerned.

But last Saturday when the Boilermakers came within 19 seconds of tying Ohio State, rated as one of the "Big Nine's" powerhouses, it was time to stop and take stock of that Purdue team.

On the face of it, the graduation of such stars as Jack Brown, Leon DeWitte, Lou Brock and Fred Montague seemed to have riddled the Purdue backfield.

The brilliant Mike Byelene of Massillon, O. John Galvin of Chicago and John Petty of Lebanon, Pa., were about all Coach Ma El-elward had in the way of experienced backfield men. That's where the sophomores have come in.

Crushed Butler

There was a tipoff in Purdue's opening game of the season when the Boilermakers crushed Butler, generally rated as the best of the secondary colleges in Indiana.

Sophomores scored three of the four Purdue touchdowns.

No less than seven sophomores backs have stepped in to help fill the breach caused by graduation of the entire 1939 regular backfield.

Byelene, quite naturally, figured to be Purdue's best passer and ball carrier but Bryan Brock of Stafford, Kans., a brother of Lou Brock; Marion (Red) Carter of Indianapolis, a brother of Jim Carter, one of Purdue's once famous "Touchdown Twins," and Frank Flajala of Tarentum, Pa., all first year men, have done a lot of the passing.

Brock's passes to Byelene set up Purdue's second touchdown against Ohio State.

Now the Boilermakers' opponents can't be sure just who is going to pass or if they're going to pass at all—because all of those sophomores are ball carriers, too.

Produced Touchdown

In the Butler game Tony Bert of Clinton, Ind., a shifty, hard-running right halfback, spelled Byelene and produced one of the Purdue touchdowns. Paul Anderson of Struthers, O., also has 176 in for Byelene.

Petty, as the first string fullback, is the team's leading scorer but only one point behind him is his replacement, Bill Buffington of Peru, Ind.—that's right, another sophomore.

Buffington has scored once in each of the first two games. And there are several other promising sophomores, including Vincent Snyder of Massillon, O. Quarterback, and Joe Hillenbrand of Evansville, Ind., guard.

At last the people of Dixon have found a game that has a mutual enjoyment and recreational benefit for both men and women—old and young.

SEE CANADA NEXT—Nixon
Although published too late to be used by this summer's vacationers, the book is interesting to read, is well illustrated, and should create interest in Canada as a vacationland for next year.

It covers all Canada from Nova Scotia to Vancouver, from Ontario to the Yukon. No matter what type of vacation is planned, there is information on where to go, what to see, how long it will take and how much it will cost.

To the motorist, Nixon gives directions on how and where to cross the border on roads, and on regulations. If it is hunting, fishing or canoeing in this land of lakes and swift rivers, he tells how to plan the expedition, hire a guide, and secure the best equipment. Such a trip—for two people for two weeks—can cost as little as $45.

Tourists visiting Hawaii increased 5.854 percent in the past 40 years, and revenue from that source has increased 13.771 percent. About 78 percent of Hawaii's guests are from the U. S. mainland.

Machine Ready to Rob Ballot Boxes Green Declares

Nashville, Ill., Oct. 11—"The Kelly-Nash-Statehouse machine stands ready on November 5th to rob ballot boxes, and to intimidate and force persons on relief and WPA to sell their votes for bread", Dwight H. Green told an audience here today. "The shameful history of vote frauds written in Chicago, this machine will undertake throughout the state."

The Republican candidate for governor declared that the New Deal is desperately eager for the 29 electoral votes of Illinois, and that "our people must be prepared to defeat the most desperate efforts ever made by these masters of crooked politics."

Green was here with a caravan which also included Warren Wright, candidate for state treasurer, and Stephen A. Day, candidate for Congressman-at-Large.

"Court records bear out the charge that when I opposed Ed Kelly for mayor in 1939, ballot boxes were stuffed and unfortunate citizens were herded to the polls to vote as the boss dictated. On that election I received 638,000 votes. I mention this fact because since that election, out of only about 200 precincts from a total of 3,648, an average of 40 fraudulent votes to a precinct were discovered by the court to have been taken from me, and given to Ed Kelly. The law abiding, decent citizen of Chicago rightfully won that election. We must prevent the stealing of the election November 5th."

To Bankruptcy and Ruin
Green asserted that perpetuation of machine rule in Illinois will carry the state to bankruptcy and ruin.

"The control of our state government by this vicious organization directly affects every one of our 2,000,000 homes in Illinois. No matter how humble any of us is, he pays in hidden or direct taxes for the support of the machine's army of 50,000 payrollers. Look for this army to increase as we come close to election. All of us pay the staggering sum of $35,000,000 a year that this machine extracts from the costs of government in corrupt contracts, useless payrollers and waste."

Green declared that the Kelly-Nash-Statehouse machine "has not even kept its fingers from the welfare of our children."

"The entire nation knows how the Kelly-Nash machine seized Chicago's splendid school system and turned it into a job factory," he charged. "When Kelly and Nash extended their power and captured control of the state, signs at once began appearing that they would do the same to the entire school system of the state. They are meddling in the affairs of the University of Illinois, the five state normal schools, and even the common and grade schools. We must and will save our schools from the grip of this machine on November 5th."

Fingerprints of persons who want to insure their identification in emergencies are being added to the files of the federal bureau of investigation at the rate of about 2,500 each day.

The song "Yankee Doodle" was written in 1755 by an English army surgeon, and was intended to ridicule the untrained American troops of those pioneer days.
